INTRODUCTION.

THE importance of a publication which should give information regarding former members of Wellesley College was early recognized. The enterprise of an organization of former students, by name "The Wellesley Record Association," led to the publication, in 1888, of a pamphlet which contained biographical details relating to members of the Association only. The constitution of this Association provided that each member should write to the secretary of the Association in June of every third year, giving any interesting information concerning herself or any other member of the Association, that a catalogue of members with addresses and other data should be issued every third year, and that a copy should be forwarded to each member. The payment of two dollars entitled a member of the College to life membership in the Association. The work of the Association later took on a more extended form, and in 1891 a record of all former members of the College was published. This record was of the greatest value to all persons interested in the history and advancement of the College. It did much to strengthen and renew the ties of college life, and has been in constant use to the present time. Owing to the great expense attending this work the Association found it impossible to continue the triennial issues.

The need of a catalogue which should contain the names and addresses of students entering subsequent to 1891, as well as changes in the names and addresses of students whose names were upon the pages of these earlier records, has been more keenly felt with each succeeding year. The completion of the first twenty-five years of the College seemed the fitting time for the prosecution of this much delayed but ever desired work. Acting upon this conviction the college secretaries applied in 1899 to the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees for permission to prepare a catalogue of members of the College during the first quarter century of its existence, and to publish the same if the subscriptions received should prove to be sufficient. It was understood that the book should be placed at the lowest price which would in any degree cover the expenses of compilation and publication. In October, 1899, circulars were addressed to all former members of the College soliciting biographical material and subscriptions. After considerable delay such a number of subscriptions was received that it was decided to proceed with the undertaking. The compilers aimed to make clear in the circulars issued that their work was entirely without connection with the former Records issued, though in full sympathy with the spirit and purpose of these publications.

Throughout the work the purpose of the compilers has been threefold, —to issue a catalogue which should afford the former members of the College ready means of intercommunication, which should be put at a price within the reach of all, and which should impose no financial burden upon the College. The task of preparing a catalogue of 6,000 names and addresses has naturally been attended with various delays, but the chief obstacle encountered has been in the tardiness of many responses to the circulars mailed to former members of the College; often every possible clue has been followed up without eliciting the desired response. It is doubtless true that in some cases valid addresses were never discovered, but in other cases response has evidently failed through the lack of prompt action on the part of the recipient.

It has been the policy of the compilers to insert only such biographical material as was obtained from direct response to the circulars of inquiry which they issued; information received through popular report has been admitted only after the most careful scrutiny. Wherever no response has been received, the deficiency is in a measure supplied by statements taken from the permanent records of the College. Such material is printed in italics, and can therefore be distinguished from the remainder of the text.

A geographical index of students who are believed to be permanently settled in foreign countries is appended. It is a matter of much regret with the compilers that a geographical index which should include former students within the limits of the United States of America as well as those outside of these limits, could not be prepared without exceeding the price at which this book is placed. It is hoped that by making use of the information furnished in these lists of faculty and students, the officers of local organizations will be able to make for themselves lists of former members of the College who are in their own region. The college secretaries will gladly do all in their power to further such undertakings on the part of these organizations, and will receive with especial interest and pleasure inquiries made with such an end in view.

The compilers of the present catalogue freely admit that it is an imperfect work which they now issue, yet they believe that in these very imperfections will be found the incentive to further efforts. Former members of the College who have not as yet been reached by the circulars of inquiry, are urged to send their names and addresses whenever this request finally makes its way to them; and all former members of the College are asked to co-operate with the college secretaries in keeping pace with changes in names and addresses as these occur. It should be borne in mind, however, that a change in address entered upon the copy of the Record which is in the hands of the secretaries of the College, is not by the same act extended to all existing copies of the Record within the walls of the College. All that the secretary can do is to correct addresses as requested, and to keep a copy of the Record in such a way that it can be freely consulted. Even when the utmost pains have been taken the use of the earlier rather than the later address will doubtless occur occasionally.

In many cases it has been impossible to acknowledge the letters which have been received in reply to special inquiries made by the compilers. All such acts of helpfulness are gratefully recalled; without them any measure of success would have been impossible. Especial thanks are due to Miss Mabel M. Young for valuable assistance in proof reading, and in other clerical work.

Wherever in the following pages the name of the state is omitted, Massachusetts may be understood. The asterisk (*) is invariably used to indicate the decease of the person before whose name it is placed. Special explanatory notes have been placed before the lists of faculty and students.

☞It is hoped that no one who fails to find the desired information in the body of the work will omit to consult the Addenda.

NAMES AND ADDRESSES OF STUDENTS

IN ATTENDANCE AT WELLESLEY COLLEGE FROM SEPTEMBER, 1875, TO JUNE, 1900.

EXPLANATORY NOTES.

ALL MAIDEN names of alumnæ are printed in capitals (heavy type), thus: ABBE, ELISABETH FRANCIS. Hence a complete list of alumnæ may be obtained by taking all names printed in this type.

The names of former students not alumnæ and CROSS REFERENCES FOR MARRIED ALUMNÆ are printed in small capitals (plain type), thus: ABBOTT, ALICE.

When no college is specified after an M.A. degree received by a Wellesley Alumna, WELLESLEY COLLEGE is to be understood. An M.A. degree conferred by Wellesley College on a GRADUATE OF ANOTHER COLLEGE is indicated by the use of heavy type, thus: M.A., Wellesley College.

Students in college during the academic year 1899–1900 are indicated by the figures 1899–1900 placed in each case before the name. The total list of names thus indicated will therefore give the total attendance of the college in its twenty-fifth year.

Italics indicate that the portion of the text so printed is supplied from permanent records of the college, or statements from friends, in default of a response to the circulars of inquiry mailed by the compilers of the Record.

In case two addresses are given, the first is the permanent or home address; the second is the temporary or business address.

This star (*) indicates the death of the former student before whose name it is placed.

GEOGRAPHICAL INDEX.

In the following pages will be found a list of former students of the College who are believed to be PERMANENTLY settled in countries outside of the geographical limits of the United States of America.

It will be noted that both names of countries and names of students grouped under these countries are alphabetically arranged; also that the names of graduates and undergraduates are in the same type. Former students in missionary service are indicated by the letter M placed after the name in each case.

Further points in regard to a former student whose name is on this list may be ascertained by referring to the name in the foregoing catalogue of students, pages 21–340.
